THE UNFORTUNATE. REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, [illegible] Established in 1854, treatment of Sexual and Diseases, such as Gonorr. Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in forms, Seminal Weakness, ncy, etc. Skin Diseases (of standing) and Ulcerated Legs fully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus received into the system: Look at their pallid, emaciated disfigured form and their broken-down constitution, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage and ... of life. In this horrid situation they ... until death closes the scene. Let parents and friends, attend to those who are suffering with these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made [illegible] his especial study for years, and who is able to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those afflicted, or to those who are interested in the ... of their friends, to be careful of the many pretenders who infest all cities, publishing their skill ... all d[illegible] in a few days, humbugging upon the ... by using the names of eminent physicians from ... and other places. Be therefore careful and make inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those [illegible].

Seminal Weakness.

[illegible], the consequence of self-abuse. This vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, with unerring certainty, the following train of symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medicines, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, ... loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, foted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, [illegible] and frequent insanity. If relief be obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either ... San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the d[illegible] has continued, and have medicine promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter, or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney street, near Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

(DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.)

DATES TO AUGUST 15.

The Philadelphia Convention—[illegible] fixes the Programme.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14.—Henry Clay Dean, of Iowa, copperhead, was forced to resign last evening. Various delegations were in [illegible] last evening and this morning, and it seems to be resolved all around that the Convention shall be harmonious. There is a paper here drawn up by President Johnson, in which he urges all delegates to present a bold, harmonious and united front to the country, and suggests that there be little speaking, and that the business and action of the body should be as far as possible determined upon in caucus.

A meeting of the chairmen of the [illegible] delegations has just been called to decide upon officers for the Convention. Neither Dix, Winthrop nor Ashmun are here, and the talk this morning is that they must take Hendricks for temporary and Doolittle for [illegible] President. The Convention will meet at noon at the Wigwam. It is not finished and a brief [illegible] will be held. Geo. H. Pendleton is not here, but has written a letter pledging his support and saying that he does not desire to be a leader in it.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14, P. M.—The Convention organized at noon, with General Dix, Minister to the Hague, as temporary Chairman, but the Wigwam not being finished and the weather stormy, there was a comparatively slim attendance. A. W. Randall, Postmaster General, called the Convention to order and announced the Massachusetts and South Carolina delegations coming in arm in arm, which elicited great applause. Randall then nominated Dix, who made a lengthy speech on taking the chair. He said: There is much in the administration of the Government which needs amending—some things used to be done, and others need to be undone. There are commercial and financial reforms which are indispensable to the public welfare, but we shall not have power to carry out these until we change the political complexion of Congress. (Applause.) This should be our first and our immediate aim. (Applause.) It is in the Congressional districts that the vital contest is to take place. The control of one body will enable us to prevent partial and unjust legislation, and the control of both houses will invest us with power to [illegible] and carry out salutary reforms to bring the Government back, in the language of Jefferson, to the republican track. This will come, sooner or later. (Applause.) Through harmonious and judicious action on our part, and the part of those we represent, that time need not be long delayed. I believe that public opinion is ripe, and that it is only necessary to present to the people clearly the issue between us and the other party which control the action of Congress and gentlemen, is not the object for which we are contending a consummation worthy of our most devoted efforts? (Applause.) We will bring back the Republic purified and strengthened by the fiery ordeal through which it has passed to its ancient prosperity and power, an example worthy by [illegible]. We shall behold the grand old reality of better times, bringing up the [illegible] of our fathers and [illegible] of the past, and with the past, and the future [illegible] entwined, one country and one flag, and one union of equal States. (Long and continued applause.) Gen. Dix then announced that the proceedings would be opened with prayer.

Rev. J. M. McDonald offered a prayer.

Doolittle, of Wisconsin, offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That all resolutions and [illegible] relating to the organization of the Convention, be referred by the chair to the committee on resolutions without debate, and all resolutions, propositions and questions relating to the right or claim of any person to a seat in the Convention, be referred by the chair to the committee on credentials, hereafter to be appointed without debate, and until that appointment, be laid on the table without debate. Committees were appointed as follows:

On Credentials—James B. Steadman, [illegible] of Louisiana, Chas. P. Daly of New York, David Kilgore of Indiana, J. B. Campbell of South Carolina, A. H. [illegible] of Wisconsin, Wm. Blair of New Hampshire, [illegible] Green of New Jersey, Jos. McFarran of Maryland, and John R. Franklin of Missouri.

On Organization—Nath'l. Little of Maine, [illegible] H. Hubbard of New Hampshire, J. J. Leavitt of Vermont, E. A. Alger of Ma[illegible], A. Barlow of Rhode Island, A. P. Waldo of Connecticut, H. W. Ludlow of New York, Joel Parker of New Jersey, H. W. Tracy of Pennsylvania, Jos. Barr of Delaware, Montgomery Blair of Missouri, E. F. Flournoy of Virginia, Jno. J. Thompson of West Virginia, M. A. Wright of North Carolina, L. A. Hawkins of Tennessee, Peter Ingraham of Georgia, Jas. B. Hawkins of Florida, J. W. Baily of Mississippi, J. G. Parkins of Louisiana, Jos. Luce of Arkansas, H. H. [illegible] of Texas, Jos. Ramsey of Tennessee, Alex. White, [illegible] L. A. Graves of Kentucky, G. Price of Ohio, G. Ross of I[illegible], Thos. J. Turner of Illinois, A. A. Stevens of [illegible], W. S. Rice Maine, L. P. Viele of W[illegible], J. H. Murphy of Iowa, A. Smith of Kansas, [illegible] of California, W. H. Farrar of Oregon, Owen Thorn of [illegible], Columbia, John W. Tuller of Dacotah, G. W. [illegible] of Idaho, and Elwood Evans of Washington Territory.

The Convention adjourned at quarter past one. The committees have been busily at work under [illegible] to get through to-morrow. There will be no speech [illegible] and the only [illegible] that remains to be dec[illegible] or the Convention will adopt a platform of [illegible] express their [illegible] in the form of [illegible] to the people!

There was a large gathering of [illegible] in the National Guard Hall this evening, under the auspices of the Johnson Club. Speeches were delivered by Gov. Perry of South Ca[illegible], [illegible] of New York, and Postmaster Cleveland of Hartford, C[illegible].

[illegible] from the [illegible]

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15.—The Convention was [illegible] nently organized with Senator Doolittle in the chair. The [illegible] was [illegible] ly crowded, a large number of [illegible] being [illegible].

Groesbeck of Ohio, handed in Vallandigham's letter of A[illegible]. He recites the resolutions of the Ohio delegation, which declare that Vallandigham is entitled to a seat, that it would be an outrage to exclude him, and that the [illegible] believed in his patriotism and good faith. Vallandigham then proceeds to say that he retires to keep peace, though he does not abate one jot or tittle of his long cherished opinions. He closes by saying that the movement here organized has every sympathy of his heart.

Doolittle stated that it would require unanimous consent to have the letter read.

Reverdy Johnson moved a suspension of the rules so that the letter could be received, and they were [illegible] amidst great confusion and boisterous demonstrations. At the mention of Vallandigham's name the applause was tremendous. So also when Cowan's name was [illegible] His [illegible] was the cause of at least ten minutes boisterous cheering.

The Committee on Resolutions appointed [illegible] Cowan, of Pennsylvania; Dixon, of Connecticut; Raymond, of New York; Hendricks, of Indiana; Browning, of Illinois; McDougall, of California; Reverdy Johnson, of Maryland; Garrett Davis, of Kentucky; Wm. Bigler, of Pennsylvania; Geo. [illegible], of N[illegible]; H. Benton, of Iowa; Chas. E. Stuart of [illegible]; Chas. A. Eldridge, of Michigan.

The Convention at 11:30 adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow, when the platform [illegible] will be [illegible] pted. Raymond and Weed have [illegible] everything, and Ray[illegible] will, it is said, write the platform.

Foreign News.

HALIFAX, Aug. 14.—The steamer Cuba brings advices to the 5th.

The steamer Cyclone, of Glasgow, was det[illegible] in great Falmouth Yards on suspicion of infringing upon the neutrality proclamation with respect to Spain and Chili. She was ostensibly bound from Hamburg to Rio [illegible] and is supplied for ten months. She was [illegible] at the request of the Spanish Government.

A much better feeling prevails at Frankfort, the soldiers were billeted upon the inhabitants, after having been returned to the barracks. A Royal decree [illegible] published ordering the circulation of the N[illegible] currency in the Venetia provinces occupied by the military.

A correspondent of the Times gives an [illegible] of Marshal Benedek's retreat. He [illegible] the [illegible] of his troops, and says that every [illegible] from Vienna was ordered to say on his return "make peace or the army will be annihilated."

It is stated that the U. S. Government has preferred charges against certain persons in France who have disposed of public property belonging to the Southern Confederacy.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times reports that the result of the war has occasioned deep feeling of discontent in France. The Emperor [illegible] was confident of Austria being victorious, and hardly concealed the hope that he should obtain the Rhine Provinces without the loss of a single man.

New York advices of August 1st, received by the Atlantic cable, appear in the English papers of August 4th, the day the Cuba sailed from Liverpool. The London Daily News' city article says the process of the consolidation of prices as between England and America through the medium of the cable continues to prejudice the [illegible] of American securities. Baring Brothers report a large business in U. S. 5-20's.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The morning papers have the following dispatches via the Atlantic Cable:

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The Cholera is decreasing in the city. Bates, a prominent iron master of Terstall, has failed; liabilities about £5,000,000. Half this sum is secured by a loan on the works of which he was the owner.

The Moniteur, alluding to the [illegible] tion of the London Times that it discovered warlike intentions on the part of France in the [illegible] of cavalry horses and saltpetre, says: "The French Government has hastened the cavalry re-mount because foreign governments have bought over 20,000 horses in France. France has a full supply of gunpowder on hand, and also in case of necessity, saltpetre." The Moniteur goes on to show the pacific intentions of the Emperor. The best informed persons think to-day that the treaty of alliance which has been forwarded by Russia to the German Governments with which she is on terms of friendship, has been signed by a portion of them, and that the instrument will be completed by the signatures of the remainder within a few days. The arrangements for the cont[illegible] annexation of new territory to Prussia are progressing rapidly.

A Convention has been [illegible] in Berlin for a pact on the subject of the Frankfort levy and contributions.

FL[illegible], Aug. 13.—Gen. Wansbrou has left the city for Cal[illegible]. He is to travel by way of Paris, and is charged by the Italian Government with a mission having for its object the conclusion of peace on a basis of the armistice. The armistice is [illegible] to-day and terminate September 19th, a day's notice of its intended termination to be given on either side. Venice is to be declared free. [illegible] of war were to be exchanged between Italy and Austria.

FLORENCE, Aug. 13.—Garibaldi has issued orders to the Italian volunteers in which he expresses hope that they will [illegible] the conditions of armistice. It is their interest to [illegible] to the King's Government.

PARIS, Aug. 13.—It is said that commanders of Austrian [illegible] in Venetia, have been directed to forward to Vienna all movable war material remaining in the Quadrilateral and other places, before the 25th of August. All [illegible] in the hands of the police in Austria, have been discharged.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 13.—Martial law which has been [illegible] for some time in the [illegible] districts of the Empire, has been abolished.

PARIS, August 13.—The Constitutionnel says: While France has a right to [illegible] from P[illegible] her true interest is not on [illegible] but to aid the [illegible] of Germany for the interest of [illegible] and of Europe.

[illegible], August 14.—Advices have been received from the [illegible] a probable renewal of war between the [illegible] and [illegible], upon the territory of the [illegible], and great fears are entertained of such an event.

The following are the [illegible] quotations on stock exchange at close of business to-day: Consols for money at 87¾. United States 5-20's 69½. Illinois Central 78.

PARIS, August 14.—The Paris bourse is heavy; rentes [illegible] at 68f.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 14.—[illegible] in the cotton market. Prices are firm and to-day's sales were 12,000 [illegible]

[illegible] It is [illegible] to-day that plans for the [illegible] of the British provinces of North America have been [illegible] arranged by the Government. The Daily Oregonian.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 18, 1866.

The Doolittle and Say-little Convention.

Very full reports are received from the Sanhedrim at Philadelphia. Johnson gives his orders, and Doolittle, his man of all work, strictly obeys instructions. The first order in the programme sent from the White House was that Doolittle should be President of the Convention. This accords perfectly with the fitness of things. Nobody could have managed Johnson's Convention so well as his man Friday. The next order was that the business of the Convention should all be transacted in caucus, and that no speeches should made in public. The voluble Doolitte, the loquacious Raymond, the wordy Cowan, the flippant Sam Cox, and the garrulous Garrett Davis were at once put on short allowance of rhetoric. The Confederate patriots and their Copperhead allies, who, but a little time ago, were fighting against the Union to show their love for it, or declaring that the war for its preservation was a failure, were effectually muzzled by Johnson's silencing order so that they had no opportunity to tell of their great love for the Union, or to recount their many sufferings in its behalf. It was supposed that the great Convention that was to reform American politics would discuss the important issues of the day, that it would enlighten the people by its deliberations, that everything would be done openly, and that since the people were to be appealed to, they would be permitted to hear what the Convention had to say. But Johnson and Doolittle dared not let the members of the Convention open their lips in public. Instead of submitting the business to open debate, a Committee—"a Central Directory"—an "Irresponsible Junto"—was formed, and everything was done in a corner. The "Central Directory" of of Congress is outdone by the "Central Directory" of the Convention of the new party!

What a commentary on the character of the Convention that its managers cannot trust the members to speak so that the people may hear them! Here is an assemblage of defeated malcontents and their political friends, among whom strict silence is compelled lest some of them should unguardedly disclose their real thoughts, sentiments and purposes, reveal the traitorous animus of the Convention, alarm the people and spoil the aims of the new party. And these men who are obliged to submit to having a seal put upon their lips lest their traitorous intentions should become known, who must be coaxed into silence lest their speech should betray them, are striving to obtain control of the National Government to carry out objects which they dare not now so much as whisper in the hearing of the people for fear that overwhelming defeat would follow the disclosure of their plans. The spirit of the Philadelphia Convention is actually worse than that of the Convention which nominated McClellan in 1864. At Chicago the malcontents spoke their sentiments. Convinced by experience of the ruinous policy of letting the country see their real animus, they maintain perfect silence at Philadelphia. The Quaker city sees the strangest Quaker meeting that was ever assembled there.

New Postal Regulations.

An act was passed by the present Congress at its late session which makes some important changes in the laws of the Postoffice Department. This amendatory act went into operation on the first day of July last, and, as its provisions are not generally known, it will not be amiss to present them in a recapitulated form.

It is now provided that all prepaid and free letters shall be forwarded at the request of the party addressed, from one postoffice to another without additional postage charge. Returned dead letters are hereafter to be returned to the writers thereof free of postage.

Letters which are endorsed with a request for their return to the writers are to be sent back without further postage charge. Postmasters are instructed to encourage the endorsement of requests for the return to the writers of letters, so as to reduce the number of dead letters. Writers of letters will find it very much to their interest to endorse upon them a request for their return if not called for at the office to which they are addressed. To return letters that are uncalled for direct to the writers from the office to which they are sent, instead of returning them by the roundabout way of the dead letter office, is a great saving of time, and often of trouble to the writers.

Money orders are now authorized for any sum not exceeding fifty dollars. The charge or fee for issuing an order not exceeding twenty dollars is ten cents, and for an order for a sum above twenty, and not exceeding fifty dollars, twenty-five cents. Money orders are valid and payable when presented to postmasters on whom they are drawn one year after the date of such orders, but no order will be paid unless presented within a year from its date. In case of loss of money orders, duplicates will be issued on presentation of required proofs, [illegible]

After the first of October, next the advertising of letters in newspapers is restricted to first class offices.

STATE ITEMS.

The next annual conference of the M. E. Church of Oregon will be held in Portland

The members of the late M. E. Conference pledged themselves by resolution to pay one-tenth of their incomes for the present year, into the centenary fund of the Conference.

In our notice, the other day, of the Buena Vista stone ware, we omitted an important fact. The glazing outside is made with a preparation of salt; that inside is made with clay, obtained near Corvallis, and contains [illegible] on his farm near Pacific, in Linn county, a fig tree about six feet in height, which will produce this season some 25 figs. They are large, and the fruit preserved from the same tree last year, was found quite equal to any imported article. Other farmers have fig trees growing, but this is the largest and most thrifty we have seen.

The Marion County Teachers' Association, held at Sublimity on the 7th inst., had a larger attendance than any session of that association ever held, thirty teachers from the county being present. The session lasted till the 10th. The officers elected for the ensuing year are, President, L. J. Powell; Vice President, C. H. Mattoon; Secretary, T. H. Crawford, Treasurer, Mrs. P. L. Price; Executive Committee, J. Hunt, C. H. Mattoon, T. H. Crawford. A semi-annual session will be held at Silverton, commencing December 26th.

The Agriculturist of the 15th says: From Mr. McDonald, Superintendent of the Santiam Co., and who arrived here last Saturday night from Quartzville, we learn the following: The yield of the fifty ton of rock, belonging to the Santiam Co., was but thirteen ounces. The mill was to commence working last Monday, on some of the Oregon Co.'s rock, which was taken from a tunnel some fifty-five feet below the Santiam Co., and which showed signs of extreme richness. * * * Notwithstanding the late prospect, work is being carried forward upon the various ledges. The tailings of the last run prospect far better than the yield shows.

Mr. M. P. Owen, who has the care of the race track on the State Fair grounds, says: "The track has been well plowed, in the spring, and thoroughly harrowed and dragged since, so that the dirt has been well pulverized and kept moist, except some fine clods on the surface, which will dissolve the first little shower, and then I shall proceed with harrow, drag and roller to put the track in first-rate order. At any rate, I promise that no pains shall be spared to put it in the very best condition; and as further inducement for all to turn out, whether your horses are fast or not, we have an inside track, so that those who cannot make time on the mile track, can take the short one."

FROM PUGET SOUND.

AN INDIAN ROW AND SCARE AT STEILACOOM.

A Steilacoom correspondent, under date of Aug. 14th, writes:

On Sunday afternoon, 12th inst., some drunken soldiers had a difficulty with some Indians near one of the breweries in Steilacoom, which resulted in several pistol shots being fired at the Indians, several of whom were wounded, and, as it was thought, mortally. At about twelve o'clock at night of the same day, the guard at the post gave the alarm of Indians being about. The entire garrison was called to arms, the howitzers were loaded with grape, and preparations made for a vigorous defense; but when daylight appeared, no Indians were in sight, and no damage had been sustained but a little loss of sleep. So ended the Indian war of 1866, at Steilacoom.

DATES TO AUGUST 15.

Vallandigham's Letter.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15.—The following is Vallandigham's letter:

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14.—To the Chairman of the National Convention—Sir: I have this day received from the National Union Committee, through Wm. Groesbeck, the chairman of the Joint Ohio delegation to your Convention, a ticket of admission as a delegate from that State. Geo. W. Cook, chairman of the Democratic delegation from Ohio, has also communicated to me this morning the following resolution, adopted by that delegation:

Resolved, Unanimously by the Ohio Democratic delegation, that we recognize the right of Clement L. Vallandigham, a duly elected delegate from the third Congressional district of Ohio, to hold a seat in that Convention; that we should regard his exclusion from his seat, as an unjust infringement of the rights of his constituents; that we endorse most cordially the purity and patriotism of his motives and his fitness in every way to sit in said Convention; yet, for the sake of harmony and good feeling in the great end for which it is called, we consent to his withdrawal from a seat in the Convention, if, in his judgment, his duty to his constituents shall justify such withdrawal.

Yielding my own deliberate convictions of right and to the almost unanimous opinion and desire of friends, whose wisdom and soundness of judgment and sincere purity of motives, I may not question, to the end that there shall be no pretext from any quarter, or disturbing element in the Convention to mar its harmony or hinder in any way the results to the Constitution, the Union and public liberty which shall follow from its deliberations and actions, I hereby withdraw from the Ohio Democratic delegation and decline taking my seat in Convention. I am profoundly conscious that the sanctity and magnitude of interests involved in the present political canvass in the United States are too immense not to demand the sacrifice of every personal consideration in the struggle upon the issue of which depends, as I must solemnly believe, the present peace, and ultimately the existence of free Republican Government on this Continent, trusting that your deliberations may be harmonious, your proceedings full of wisdom and patriotism, securing triumph in the end to the great cause in which every sympathy of my heart is enlisted, I am sir, respectfully your obedient servant,

C. L. VALLANDIGHAM

A Dispatch from the President.

The following dispatch was received from the President and greeted with enthusiastic cheers:

To O. H. Browning and Hon. A. W. Randall, National Union, Philadelphia:—I thank you for your cheering and encouraging dispatch. The finger of Providence is unerring and will guide you safely through. The people must be trusted and the country will be restored. My faith is unshaken in ultimate success. ANDREW JOHNSON.

PHILADELPHIA, August 15, Midnight.—The excitement in regard to the Convention has entirely subsided now that it is known there will be no speaking, and consequently no excitement inside the wigwam, and that the business will be entirely confined to the passing of resolutions and the adoption of an address. It is believed that the Convention will adjourn on Thursday afternoon.

There was comparatively a small number of visitors to the wigwam to-day, most of the people being satisfied with reading the reports which are telegraphed to the centres of business direct.

The committee on resolutions and address were still in session at nine o'clock this evening. It is generally believed they will agree upon an address to-night, and that it will be reported to the Convention to-morrow morning, and that after its adoption the Convention will adjourn.

Speeches are being made to-night in front of the Continental Hotel and at the National Guard Hall and other places, by prominent speakers, in favor of the object of the Convention.

Another great meeting was held at the National Guards Hall this evening. Among the speakers were Lewis D. Campbell, of Ohio, and Maj. Rollins, of Missouri. A gentleman who was present informs us that at mention of the names of Lee and Stonewall Jackson, there was kind and prolonged applause. The crowd in Chestnut street has been calling for Vallandigham all the evening, but he has not yet appeared.

Colonel Forney was serenaded at his office, and made a short speech.

Alexander H. Stephens has arrived in town this evening in company with his brother, Linton Stephens. He is the guest of R. J. Arnold on Bond street.

There is no prospect that the report of the Committee on Resolutions will be made public until the meeting of the Committee to-morrow morning. It is understood to be of a very amicable character.

Vallandigham will probably be serenaded to-morrow evening.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—The resolutions and address will doubtless be promptly reported this Morning. There has been considerable canvassing to have the Committee furnish printed copies to the Convention simultaneously with the reports; indeed an attempt was made in the Committee yesterday to pass resolutions to that effect, but it was promptly ruled out.

Hays, of Illinois, said he did not expect the Convention to adopt any resolution or platform indorsing his opinions or those of the Democratic party to which he belonged, but he had known of platforms being adopted in moments of enthusiasm which were afterwards subjected to severe criticism.

Governor Perry, of South Carolina, asked that nothing be put in the platform to which a Constitution and Union loving Democrat could not subscribe. [Some cheers and interruption.] He knew the sentiments of the Democratic party, and believed if ever there was a patriotic party in this country, that was it.

During this brief episode the point of order was raised three times by different gentlemen and sustained by the chair, that there was no question properly before the Convention, and Hays and Perry subsided.

It is understood this morning that the platform and address will be reported in manuscript and adopted, and that a committee will be appointed to call upon President Johnson, and that the Convention will adjourn to-day. The scene yesterday over Vallandigham's letter demonstrated his popularity and power, and proved that once admitted he could not have been driven out as had been threatened. Indeed some of Vallandigham's more demonstrative friends express regret that he did not attend, and all praise the modesty of his frequent refusals to be called out by serenading parties for a publish speech. The question is being actively discussed whether Heister Clymer, Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, shall withdraw in favor of some one to be nominated under the auspices of the new party.

Later from the Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—The National Union Convention met in the wigwam at 10 A. M., pursuant to adjournment. Every seat in the building was filled. The attendance of ladies was greater than on any previous day. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. The proceedings were opened with prayer by Rev. R. Snyder, of Pennsylvania.

The President of the Convention—Senator Doolittle—then arose and said: Before we proceed to business, the chair begs leave to announce as the first response to the call for this Convention, the result of the Colorado election. [Cheers.] The following dispatch was then read: DENVER, Aug. 16.—Returns from all parts of the territory render certain the election of an administration candidate to Congress.

The dispatch was greeted with great applause.

Crowell, of New Jersey, offered the following:

Resolved, That a committee of two from each State be appointed by the chair to wait upon the President of the United States and present him with an authentic history of the proceedings of this Convention. Adopted.

Charles Clapp, of the District of Columbia, offered the following:

Resolved, That the Committee on Finance be appointed to consist of two delegates from each State and Territory and the District of Columbia. Adopted.

General Patten, of Pennsylvania, offered a resolution on the subject of representation in Congress, which, under the rules, was referred without reading or debate.

Cowan, of Pennsylvania, offered the following:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Convention are hereby tendered to Morton McMichael, of Philadelphia, for his admirable police arrangements during the setting of the Convention. Adopted.

"Declaration of Principles."

Cowan again arose in behalf of the committee who were appointed to prepare the resolutions and address, and said: I have to state, that, after careful and elaborate consideration of the same, lasting all day and a part of the night, we have agreed upon, and I beg leave to report the following Declaration of Principles which the Secretary will read, and also an address to the people, which will be read by Mr. Raymond of New York. The Secretary then proceeded to read the declaration of principles, the first clause of which was loudly applauded. The last one, which endorses the President, was greeted with prolonged cheers. The declaration of principles commences as follows:

The National Union Convention, now assembled, composed of delegates from every State and Territory in the Union, admonished by solemn lessons which for the last five years it has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the universe to give the American people, profoundly gratified for the return of peace, desirous as are a large majority [illegible] as of instant and continuing trial, hereby issues and proclaims the following declaration of principles.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—The Convention met at 10 A. M., Doolittle in the chair. Rev. E. M. Taylor, of Mississippi, offered prayer. Doolittle read a dispatch from Colorado announcing the election of the Administration candidate for Congress in Colorado. This was received with loud cheers.

Cowan, of Pennsylvania, reported resolutions from committee, and subsequently Raymond reported an address, the reading of which occupied one hour. Both platform and address were adopted with enthusiastic unanimity and repeated rounds of applause. A National Executive Committee at Washington and a Committee to wait on the President with an official report of the proceedings, were then announced, and at half past two the Convention adjourned sine die, with nine cheers for the Constitution and Andy Johnson.

The platform or declaration of principles adopted by the Convention thanks God for the return of peace; and says the war maintained the authority of the Constitution and preserved the equilibrium of States; that the right of representation in Congress and the Electoral College cannot be denied by Congress, nor any debt of the General Government; calls upon the people to elect to Congress men who will admit these principles; declares that certain powers are reserved to States and among them that of prescribing the qualifications for elective franchise; declares that no State can secede from the Union, nor can any be excluded; that States have an equal voice in ratifying constitutional amendments; that slavery is abolished and that enfranchised slaves should receive protection in person and property; it repudiates the rebel war debt, and says it is the duty of the Government to meet just claims of soldiers and sailors, and the survivors' widows and orphans; recognizes in Andrew Johnson a chief worthy of the nation, and renders him cordial and sincere support. The resolutions were adopted unanimously.

Cholera at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 15.—One hundred and nine deaths were reported yesterday, 81 of which were from cholera. This is a small decrease from the preceding day.

Monetary and Commercial.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The Evening Post's money article says gold is stronger, and excited mainly in consequence of the threatening aspect of European affairs. Money is easy. Stocks opened with firmness. Cotton is steady at 34@35c. Flour is active at $10@$15. Butter, closing firm with no sellers, at inside figures. Wheat, 1@2c. better, with demand. Wool, dropping at 33@35c. for California.

The Evening Post's special says the order issued by Secretary McCulloch for refunding the temporary loan certificates will at once throw upon the market the $7,000,000 in currency now in the Treasury. The Secretary is obliged to redeem all these certificates at once, as he cannot discriminate between them.

Claims for Extra Bounties.

PAYMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—There are 31,000 applications per day from men who have served as volunteers, urging their claims to extra bounty authorized at the last session of Congress. As there are no funds in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated for other purposes, and as the special commission which has the subject under consideration has not yet made its report, there can be no payments made under this act for some months, and nothing therefore can be done with claims that are transmitted to the pay department for the additional bounty, except to file them, so that they may be taken up in due order, when the arrangement for payment shall be completed.

Telegram from Gov. Throckmorton.

Gov. Throckmorton, of Texas, has telegraphed to the Secretary of State that he has been duly installed into office and has assumed the government of State, and that he and other State officers will now prove by their acts that the confidence reposed in their intelligence and patriotism by the President has not been misplaced.

Habeas Corpus Restored Everywhere.

Secretary Seward returned yesterday from five day's absence at Auburn, and it is understood that immediately after the Cabinet meeting on Friday next the President's proclamation restoring the writ of habeas corpus throughout the insurrectionary States and virtually terminating military occupation, which has been delayed on account of his absence, will be issued.

Cholera at the West.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—But four cases of cholera have thus far occurred in this city. One hundred and seven cases were reported at St. Louis yesterday, including forty-eight that were fatal. Scattering cases are reported all over the country, but the disease is reported to be subsiding at New York.

Insurance Losses—Cholera Report.

NEW YORK, August 16.—Thirty insurance companies on this coast have paid $1,335,200 of the losses by the Portland fire.

PHILADELPHIA, August 16.—The cholera report of the board of health up to noon to-day showed 20 new cases, 10 of which proved fatal.

The President in Excellent Spirits.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The President is highly pleased with the proceedings and results of the Philadelphia Convention, and has been in excellent spirits all day. He regards the harmony and enthusiasm there displayed as certain indications of the success of the Conservatives, and of an endorsement of his course by the people.

Freedmen's Rations to be Stopped.

It is reported on good authority that the further issue of rations in Southern States by the Freedmen's Bureau, except to hospitals and asylums for both freedmen and whites, is to be discontinued, and that an order to this effect will shortly be promulgated by Gen. Howard, thus throwing the support of the indigent of all classes upon local authorities.

Foreign News.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The following are among special dispatches by the cable in the morning papers:

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—General Storstabeles has been appointed Governor General of Hanover, and the King of Prussia has informed the Queen of Hanover that her father's residence in the Capitol of the late kingdom would be attended with much inconvenience. The war against Bavaria may be renewed by Prussia after the expiration of the armistice, should no change take place in the aspect of affairs. Herr Von Patow has been appointed chief of civil affairs on the part of Prussia in the grand Duchy of Nassau and the city of Frankfort. The Prussian Minister of finance moved in the upper House a bill of indemnity for Government for all financial acts since 1862. In seeming violation of the budget laws, he also proposed to appropriate 54,000,000 thalers for the expenses of the current year, accompanied by a credit bill of 60,000,000 thalers. The Prussian Government has abandoned the idea of making a new loan, as it finds the issue of treasury notes the more expedient way. More ample financial powers may, however, be required by the Government, as peace has not yet been concluded.

VIENNA, Aug. 14.—The recent negotiations between the Emperor and Hungarian leaders are not permitted to be published.

The Emperor has returned from Pesth.

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—The Swiss troops lately guarding the Italian frontier have been disbanded.

The Austrian headquarters in the Tyrol are fixed at Borgo.

LONDON, August 14.—It is expected that the Bank of England rate of discount will be reduced from 10 to 8 per cent. this week.

LONDON, Aug. 16—Evening.—The following were the official quotations at the close of business to-day. On the London Stock Exchange Consols, for money, 87⅞. United States 5-20s, 68.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 16.—Cotton advanced to-day ⅛ of a penny per lb. The sales foot up 20,000 bales middling upland at 14 pence. The breadstuffs market is firm.

NEW YORK, 17.—The morning papers have the following specials per Atlantic cable:

PARIS, August 15.—The Emperor Napoleon received Prussian embassadors to-day at the Tuilleries, and the Minister delivered to his Majesty the reply of the King of Prussia to the note demanding an extension of the frontier of France to the Rhine. State paper declares the demand is unanswerable, that Prussia will not accede to it. The Emperor Napoleon replies that he had made the demand in order to satisfy public opinion in France on the subject of rectification of the frontier line. He deemed it a just demand, but at the same time acknowledged the fairness of the argument by the Prussian cabinet in its reply of refusal. He said that the relations at present existing between France and Prussia should not be disturbed in any case, and hoped Prussia would not overstep the line.

PARIS, August 16, M.—It is officially stated to-day that the French Government has receded from its demands made on Prussia for the extension of its frontier to the Rhine. France does this in the interest of peace which she desires far more than territorial aggrandizement. The hope is also expressed by the official journal, the Moniteur, that Prussia will not press her project of annexation with German States south of Main.

MADAME D'ORMY'S

FIRST CONCERT!

MADAME JOSEPHINE D'ORMY BEGS TO STATE to the Ladies and Gentlemen of Portland that in leaving San Francisco for this City with the intention of returning through the Willamette Valley, she had no other thought than that of securing change of scene and relief from her artist labors. Since her arrival here it has been intimated that a Concert given by her would prove acceptable and she therefore respectfully announces that she will appear before the public on Monday evening next. She feels much pleasure in stating that in this city it has been her good fortune to hear the voices of two young ladies who are likely to make their mark in the musical world. They will also appear on Monday night.

It has been suggested to her that Dancing after the performance would be considered very desirable on the part of a majority of those who would attend, and as all indisposed to participate could leave at the conclusion of the Concert, she has felt no hesitation in announcing that the evening's entertainment would terminate with a [illegible] Court.—Judge [illegible]'s levee was largely attended [illegible], it appearing that an inoffensive girl had been [illegible] arrest on a charge of insulting a [illegible] Marks, on the public streets. The girl with [illegible], lady friend, and a gentleman in whose em[illegible] at the usual hour in the forenoon [illegible] until 1 o'clock P. M., at which [illegible] directly interested and many who [illegible], were present. M. F. Mulkey Esq ap[illegible], and Judge McCoy and Mr Upton [illegible]. As there were but two wit[illegible] each side, and the arguments of the [illegible] brief, but little time was consumed in the [illegible], Mr. Marks, was one fined [illegible] of the complaint, which were that [illegible] out Washington street, on Thursday [illegible] about 9 o'clock, when the girl met him at a hall door where she was sweeping, and applied opprobrious [illegible] him, and spit in his face. No evidence was [illegible] to rebut the testimony of Marks, and the girl [illegible] the lowest p[illegible] penalty, as it was clearly ev[illegible] made to appear that a former diffi[illegible] between the daughter of Mr Marks and the defend[illegible] had given rise to the trouble if indeed there was any [illegible] four other cases usual in this court [illegible] of the day.

[illegible]—C. Beal, Esq., of this city, who has [illegible] on a visit to the coast, informs us that Mr [illegible] Bryant, who [illegible] on Claskini river, a tributary of the [illegible], below Rainier, has discovered gold in [illegible] near the [illegible] river. Both quartz [illegible] and placer [illegible] are said to have been found. Mr [illegible] of the quartz which look very [illegible]. Our informant also states that Mr Bryant [illegible] of a very desirable body of land in the [illegible], being a tract of prairie about nine miles [illegible] by two miles wide, with rich maple flats, suit[illegible]. He proposes to explore the region, [illegible] in a short time, and will be pleased [illegible] who may wish to see the country [illegible]. Mr Beal gave Cape Dis[illegible] a call, and wit[illegible] the immensity of the [illegible] which are yet unfinished. One [illegible] between the Light House [illegible] 146 pounds of powder for a single charge. The work of putting it up consumed [illegible] occurred at the Cape a [illegible] in which a very deserving young man [illegible] fallen from the flag-staff, while at [illegible] rope, breaking his neck one [illegible] and one lower limb. He expired almost immedi[illegible].

The Mails.—The Herald editor asks if the Postmaster at Portland will [illegible] him and the public generally, [illegible] the Weekly Herald does not [illegible] Rainier postoffice [illegible] the Tuesday following the [illegible] on which it is [illegible] in the office at Port[illegible]. The Postmaster at [illegible] us to say, for the benefit of the Herald [illegible], that the mails for [illegible], St. Helens, Rainier, [illegible] and Olympia, leave the office at this place [illegible] Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays of each week at [illegible] o'clock A. M., and that if the Weekly Herald does not reach Rainier on the Saturday on which it is placed in the office here, the failure is owing to the fact that it is not put in the Portland office before the hour for closing the mails, which is 6 o'clock A. M. The "public general[illegible]" has no interest in the Herald editor's inquiry, as there is not [illegible] in the community who does not know that his mail matter, to secure quick [illegible], must be [illegible] in the office in sufficient time to be made up in the mails going out on the same day.

The W[illegible] of the Weekly [illegible] that he is [illegible] one of the best papers upon the Pacific coast, which claim is readily ac[illegible] to him by any person, upon an inspection of the sheet. In all matters relating to the interests of Oregon, the Weekly [illegible] is carefully [illegible] the State, is the most suitable to [illegible] or to other portions of the world. Oregon is not as well known as she deserves to be, and parties are [illegible] at the counting room of the Oregonian [illegible] may procure copies of the Daily or Weekly [illegible] to send to their friends, in or[illegible] of events transpiring here may be [illegible] in new quarters, where it may be the means of doing good for all. The price for single copies is a mere [illegible] sum, being but 10 cents. When [illegible] $3 per annum.

[illegible]—An old copy of the Wide West, pub[illegible] at San Francisco [illegible] the days of [illegible] has found its way into our office. It would be found bett[illegible] of that class of people who look for [illegible] term," than any place we [illegible] on the Pacific coast. The woods [illegible] are filled with [illegible] fish and the [illegible] dusty. Now, here is a rare [illegible] of a little surplus [illegible]. Say [illegible] gentlemen, if this is not so.

[illegible]—Mr. E. H. White has begun the con[illegible] of a large and convenient wharf in the rear of [illegible] Hotel, which, when completed and [illegible] with the wharf of Mr G. W. Vaughn, [illegible] line of this character of city front [illegible] feet in extent. On the South of [illegible] of Governor Abernethy, and Mr Knott, [illegible] is quite [illegible] show for ship[illegible].

[illegible] Sheriff Arnold has marshaled his [illegible] them in their proper position in the [illegible] of the new County Court House, handy for busi[illegible] at the next term of the Circuit Court. The line was [illegible] at twelve [illegible] when one has been [illegible] birds to people the new cages. [illegible] for more, [illegible] the thought that [illegible] jail is [illegible], in this respect, to an India-rubber [illegible].

Terrible Catastrophe. Fall of a Building—Six Persons Killed.

San Francisco, August 17, 10 A. M.—About half past two o'clock this morning the Summer Street House on Summer street above Montgomery, fell down with a terrible crash. The house was a three-story, brick, and was occupied by J. Brewster Jr., as a boarding house. There were 30 or 40 occupants of the house. Six persons were killed and fifteen injured, some of them fatally. The cause of this horrible catastrophe was the undermining of the wall in excavating for the foundation of a new addition to the Odd Fellows Hall. The building is a complete wreck, nothing but a portion of the front wall standing.

San Francisco, August 17th.—This city has again been visited with one of those terrible calamities which casts a pall of gloom over the community and which forms the sad topic of conversation everywhere.

About 15 minutes to 3 o'clock this morning, people living on Montgomery street between California and Pine streets, were awakened by the crashing of a falling building. The building was known as the "Summer Street H[illegible]," a boarding and lodging house kept by John Brewster, jr. On the first alarm, parties who happened to be in the vicinity, rushed to the scene, but a thick cloud of dust caused by the fallen building, for some time prevented them from seeing either the extent or character of the catastrophe. Shrieks and groans filled the air, but bystanders were for a time unable to do anything to relieve the sufferers. Fortunately some members of Howard Engine Co. No. 3, returning from the fire on Commercial street were on Montgomery street and gave the alarm from the telegraph station which brought the force of the fire department to the rescue. Bonfires were at once lighted in Summer street to give light to working parties, who, under direction of the Chief Engineer and Fire Marshal, commenced to clear away the ruins. Upon the dust having cleared away, it was seen that the entire stories of the building were a mass of ruins. The main part of the house having fallen into an excavation, next to the Odd Fellows Hall the front wall of the building alone standing and is liable to fall at any moment. The first man taken from the wreck was found wandering around on the roof of the building in his shirt seeming bewildered, and not knowing how to get away. His body was covered with blood from a wound on the back of his head and a severe cut over his temple. He was taken to a saloon and after his wound had been examined and dressed, was sent to a Mr. Moore's house on Minna street, between Second and Third. Two men crawled out from the front part of the wreck uninjured. Mrs Brewster, the wife of the proprietor, was rescued almost unhurt, being slightly wounded in the head. Mr Brewster was found to be alive and vigorous efforts were made to [illegible] him. A [illegible] was got under the beams of the floor above and water handed to him which he drank, and conversed at the same time with Engineer Scannell and others. He stated that he was not much hurt, and was only held by his shoulders which prevented him from getting out; the front wall threatening to fall at any moment. He was about being pulled out by force when the wall fell in, crushing him to death and injuring several firemen who could not [illegible] in time. By this time a large crowd had gathered, and when the second wall fell it was supposed that a number of the firemen were killed. The whole building then was in ruins, nothing was left standing but a small portion of the west wall about ten feet high, and on the site of the building was a mass of brick and rubbish, from which the groans and shrieks of the dying and wounded rose on the air, imploring [illegible] to [illegible]. C[illegible] difficulty was experienced in removing the [illegible] and timbers of the upper story but the exertions of the firemen and others soon stripped off the upper debris and rescued the suffering, who were in that part of the building when it fell. The mass beneath, however, [illegible] of brick and broken timber, the removal of which [illegible] only be effected slowly and it became appa[illegible] [illegible] beneath could be saved. As the bodies of the dead and [illegible] were taken from the fallen building, they were conveyed to such places as were accessible at that early hour in the morning. Wm Johnson and Reuben Putnam were taken to a room connected with Porter's stables, on California street. Putnam sustained a dislocation of his right thigh and a fracture of the right arm and Johnson was badly cut about the face and head. McCready, a painter, and his little son William, a lad of about twelve years of age, were taken from the ruins, the former fatally, the latter seriously injured. They were taken to the county hospital, where the father died, shortly after reaching there. Both of his legs were broken and he sustained fatal internal injuries. The boy is terribly bruised about the thighs and lower portion of the body, and his recovery is doubtful. A young man [illegible] Whittier, a brother of Gen. Whittier of the United States army, was taken from the ruins with his side completely crushed in, and was taken to the Blue Wing saloon. [illegible] he was removed to Dr Murphy's office. His injuries are severe and but slight hopes are entertained of his recovery. Peter Nash and Jacob Ball each [illegible] a fracture of the collar bone. Mr Cla[illegible] has his left ankle fractured. Among the occupants of the house who escaped with slight injuries were Alvin Baldwin and Silas Macy, printers. Fredk M. Eckart, J. O. Jennings, Mrs Brewster and child, Edward Shultz, Geo. Crouch, printer, Brown McCoy and a man named K[illegible]. Baldwin, Macy and Crouch were engaged on the morning papers and were about entering the building on returning from work when it fell. David Hawley, a plumber, with Henry Ho[illegible], received about a dozen wounds from the falling bricks and timbers. Peter Kenish and Albert Lewis are in the County Hospital badly wounded. [illegible] Rolver had his leg and collar bone broken. Albert Lewis suffered a severe strain of the spinal column. Joseph Dyer had his leg slightly injured, and Morris [illegible] of Mon[illegible] Engine Co. No [illegible] had both legs broken. Geo. White [illegible] Foreman of Pacific Engine Co. No. 8, [illegible] severely injured. Jas Morton, a volunteer of Tiger Engine Co. No. 14, sustained a fracture of the thigh. He was taken to his mother's residence. The firemen were injured by the falling of the front wall. About forty were at work in the interior of the building near the wall when it fell, and the escape was almost miraculous. The wall, fortunately instead of falling over in a body, seemed to crumble into atoms and only those who were immediately against it were injured. The following is a list of killed, in the order in which their bodies were exhumed from the ruins. John Brewster, jr., proprietor of the house, Geo Burbank, Chas. W. Lawson, McCready, Painter, Peter Hadley, Thos. Twistyman, [illegible] Hall, unknown heavy set man with high forehead and thick black hair and whiskers. A boy about 12 years old named Stanton, and Joel Holstead, proprietor of a cider mill in the Pacific fruit market, are missing and supposed to be buried beneath its ruins. Willie McCready is reported as having died in the county hospital. John Brewster, jr., was a painter and glazier by trade, and a member of an exempt fire company. A large gang of firemen are working overhauling debris, but their progress is necessarily slow, on account of the [illegible] state of the wreck, the building having [illegible] pieces. If any one is buried beneath the ruins, there is scarcely any hope of their being extricated. Amid the scenes of [illegible] there were many acts of personal heroism worthy of special mention. Willie [illegible] was removed from the ruins terribly [illegible], begged of his rescuers to return for [illegible] astonishing nerve and coolness. "Keep up your pluck, my man," said he to a fellow sufferer near him. While [illegible] served four years in the army during the late war. While his wounds were being dressed he remarked to his attendants "It is mighty hard to die in this way after fighting four years for your country." Geo. Bray, special police officer at the Belle Union, fell in a fit while assisting in the removal of the dead bodies. He was soon restored however. The firemen and others worked nobly and without intermission under the direction of Chief Engineer Scannell. The immediate cause of the accident was the excavation of the adjoining lot between the Summer Street House and the rear of the Odd Fellows Hall, for the purpose of adding an extension to the latter building. The excavation had been dug about five feet below the foundation of Summer Street House leaving an embankment of hard clay three feet wide on which the walls rested. Under the front portion of the building, or under the south-east corner a well some fifteen inches in diameter had been dug some years ago, across the top of which a heavy timber had been placed upon which the walls rested. Whether the timber broke, the well caved or the bank on which the wall rested settled, is not known. The contractor for excavating the lot notified the building committee of the Odd Fellows Hall Association of the insecurity of the walls a week ago, when John Reid, Chairman of the Committee, notified Mr De Fremery owner of the building in writing of the fact. Mr De Fremery stated that he had left the matter with Supervisor Torrey who could take any measures necessary in the premises. Mr Torrey examined the premises, and stated that he was satisfied that the wall was secure. Mr Torrey was advised yesterday morning by Mr Kane, the contractor that the wall was insecure and should be shored up as a matter of precaution, but Mr Torrey appeared to be satisfied with a personal examination in company with others, whose opinions on the matter were worthy of consideration. Mr Reid again had an interview with Torrey last evening on the same subject, but it seems that nothing was accomplished nor were any precautionary measures taken. The coroner summoned a jury who visited the premises at 2 o'clock this afternoon. It will become a part of their duty to decide who may be to blame if any one is, in the matter.

A fire broke out about 2 o'clock this morning, in No 322 Commercial street. It originated in the back room of a second story occupied by Saml. Aphel for manufacturing oil clothing. It is claimed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion. A fire took place in the same building about three years since, in the same place and from oil clothing. The following parties occupied portions of the building: Saml. Aphel loss estimated at $2 000 to $2,500, insured $1 500; B. L. Bryant loss $1,500 insured for $4,000; Joseph Dein, damage by water, $750 insured for $1 000; H. Rothschilds, clothing damage by water $1,000, insured in Pacific company; Tunnanz & Zinn, damaged by water slightly, insured for $2,500.

The charge of libel made by manager Maguire against the DeYoung brothers, proprietors of the Dramatic Chronicle came up again in the police court yesterday afternoon. Quite a number of witnesses for the defence [illegible] and did not think proper [illegible] reading the article that it referred to Maguire. Several witnesses testified that the word management was deemed to include proprietor stage manager, acting manager and treasurer. The case will be argued on Tuesday next before Judge Rix.

The case of Dr DeWolf arrested for assault and battery was this morning dismissed by Judge Rix, it [illegible] [illegible]. After dismissal Dr DeW[illegible] and wife paraded through the streets to the postoffice, followed by a large train of [illegible] curiosity to see the woman's costume seems to have got the better of their judgment.

Rise in Gold

Gold is steadily advancing in New York. Yesterday it was quoted there at 152 and sterling at 107¾. This rise in gold is accredited to the unsettled condition of European affairs together with the fact that the Secretary had notified to pay off a temporary loan of seventy millions, thus throwing a large amount of currency on the market.

Legal Tenders.

Legal tenders here sympathize with this rise in gold. Brokers are buying at 70 and 70½ and at selling at 71 and 71.

Mining Stocks

Mining stocks are dull and transactions, of course, light with the exception of Savage, which advanced $20 from the morning board of yesterday. There is a general decline in all of the leading stocks dealt in this morning as follows: Yellow Jacket, $10; Overman, $4; Bullion, $2 50; Belcher and Chollar Potosi, each $2.

Shipping.

Arrived Aug. 16.—Ship Fleetwood 163 days from New York, ship Vitula, 100 days from New York; ship Nicholas Biddle 12 days from Port Discovery. Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supercede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle or selling any other material therein whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c. who will [illegible] in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, [illegible] merchants, &c. is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which [illegible] here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive [illegible] after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. [Dedicated to Mrs L W Coe]

BY J. ROLLIN M SQUIRE.

On a green sloping bank o'er whose crest
Swept the brook with a musical flow,
We sat down as the sun in the west
Tinged the clouds with a soft golden glow
Lighting up the foam-course of the fall,
As it leapt to the chasm below

Save the unceasing song of the stream
And the low touching sigh of the pines
Which seemed whispering, like one in a dream,
As the breezes swept through their confines,
All was still, and around rose the hills
With their bold and irregular lines.

Far below o'er its wild, rocky bed,
The Columbia rolled grandly and free,
Like a bride in her beauty to wed
With the restless and clamorous sea,
And the barriers that rose in her course
She swept round with loud laughter and glee

Like a gem, o'er the dark verdant wood,
With its robe of perpetual snow,
Into Heaven rose the peak of Mt. Hood,
Rosy tinged from the sun's dying glow;
And as monarchs sometimes on their courts,
Seemed to smile on the ranges below

Would the river might speak, and reveal
All the wonders its memories might show,
Which the lips of the past still co[illegible]
As the ages, majestic and slow,
Hold their way down the dark aisles of Time,
As they did long, long cycles ago.

Canst recall, Oh, Mt. Hood when thou first,
From the bosom of Earth rudely whirled,
Saw the gateways of day open burst,
W[illegible] the [illegible] of morning we hurled,
W[illegible] with [illegible] with light,
Thou didst gaze on a still slumbering world?

Tell me what thou hast known of the past,
Hast thou seen nations rise and decay?
Or the red man, whose portion is cast
Midst the types which are passing away,
Had he aught of pomp, [illegible] or power,
In the realm over which he held sway?

It was thus that I musingly spoke,
But nor river nor mount made reply;
All was still save the brook as it broke
O'er the moss-covered [illegible] sigh,
And from river and mountain [illegible],
To the glory that burned in the sky

On the verge of the west the red sun
Lingered still in full glory arrayed,
While the shadows of eve one by one,
Gainst whose [illegible] his swift [illegible] played,
On the footsteps of day closely hung,
As he hurried through forest and glade.

Heavy clouds of [illegible] and weird forms
[illegible] round his bright throne in the west,
Till it seemed as if the God of the [illegible]
Had been called there to watch o'er his rest,
And the sun was [illegible] and his rays
With the gl[illegible] of the [illegible]

Hallowed hour! when [illegible] are still,
And all nature is hushed in repose!
What mysterious influences fill
The sweet time when the day nears its close,
When the heart feels the [illegible] of life,
And no longer [illegible] the woes.

Then, how sweet on the ear in the [illegible]
Of the bell [illegible] in the [illegible],
With its deep interest [illegible]
Calling all to the blest vesper hour,
When the soul winged with prayer flies away
To the source of its life and its power

Though no bell calls to prayer in these wilds,
Yet the voice of the prayerful is heard
From the primeval wood, in whose aisles
Many a heart with [illegible] stirred
God's first temples, the forests and groves,
Though they ring to no [illegible] word.

O'er what shrine ever beat such a [illegible]
Through what aisles ever [illegible] rays
As now played on the crest of the foam
Where the brooklet still [illegible] its lays,
Or what spires like Mount [illegible] and Hood
Did the genius of man ever raise?

As our [illegible] the [illegible]
In our [illegible] the fond [illegible] grew bright
As the orbits that brilliantly [illegible]
On the brow of the now [illegible] night,
And fond [illegible] resounded the scene
With its glorious pencil of light.

Fare thee well, hallowed spot, fare thee well!
Though my footsteps may wander no more
Where the brook sings its song in the dell,
Or the [illegible]
I shall dwell on this hour with a joy
Which my heart [illegible]

The President, by One of His Friends.—"Mark," the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, who is reputed to be a friend of the President, and has the run of the Executive Mansion, thus writes of Johnson's present position

What many predicted, and [illegible] in regard to the President and the constitutional amendment turns out to be altogether too true for the reputation of the P[illegible] and the good of the country. There is evidence which cannot be disputed that Johnson has [illegible] to the work of preventing the ratification of the proposed amendment in his own State [illegible] is also, however, very satisfactory [illegible] that he will not succeed, but that Tennessee will ratify that wise, just and [illegible] measure, and that, too, perhaps, before this letter sees the light of print. Johnson seems to have a [illegible] for the imitation of historic characters. First he was a Moses, leading the colored race out of bondage to freedom, and showing [illegible] from the Pisgah top of the State [illegible] Nashville. He got tired of playing [illegible] and advancing about five [illegible] years in a single stride, appeared upon the public stage in the character of a Tribune of the people. He [illegible] to have abandoned the Tribune business, thinking it better in the hands of Hu[illegible] than in his, and now he is enacting the role of the Danish monarch who distinguished himself from his contemporaries by the belief that he could make the waves of the sea obey him. And [illegible] like his great prototype, Canute, not only bidding the Atlantic to recede, but, more foolish still, bidding the [illegible] of p[illegible] opinion, more powerful a th[illegible] fold [illegible] of the [illegible], to keep away from him and the dev[illegible] of his policy.

Seriously, it [illegible] the country just what his policy [illegible] best friends [illegible] personal [illegible] tests as to their loyalty, that his p[illegible] by a g[illegible] of the people [illegible] principally [illegible] it was [illegible] before him. If, however, [illegible] Johnson men [illegible] in his [illegible] to give a [illegible] respectability to the Administration of John Tyler, I take it that Johnson men in the Republican party will be found about as scarce as plums in a boarding-school pudding.

Negro Suffrage at the South.—The Atlanta (Ga.,) New Era says:

"The negro will ultimately vote if he stays here Every thoughtful man sees this in the not distant future. We are powerless to prevent it. We are without voice in the Government; without political power, without the means of asserting our rights under a written constitution. The scheme of the Radicals must, in [illegible] temporarily But that very success will prove their ruin as it did the ruin of their ancestors in the days of Cromwell It will put a weapon of defence into our hands Shall we hesitate to use it? Shall we vote the negro, and through him control radicalism? or shall radicalism vote the negro and through him control our local as well as federal policy? Shall we use this power in legitimate self defence, or shall the Radicals seize it to complete our destruction? How do we propose meeting this issue? Final decision and action cannot be delayed a great while longer. The crisis is not distant. It is here now What shall be our decision? Pride or something else, prevented the skillful use of a defensive weapon during the war, and the instrument of destruction was naturally enough, turned against us. Shall this pride, or this something else, induce similar indiscretion now? Let us begin to think earnestly and seriously of this matter We have abandoned all hope of a separate nationality Shall we likewise abandon all manhood, all hope of civil and religious liberty? Should we not, in common with the conservative Union men of all sections, rather change tactics, come down from our stilts, waive mere formalities where vital interests are at stake, and fight the devil with fire?"

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND, August 17, 1866

As will be seen by our domestic report there has been a very heavy increase in the export of wheat from California to European markets, the present season over corresponding periods in previous years, and this too, at a time when the rapid communication of thought between the Old and the New World was having a most depressing influence. What effect the Atlantic Telegraphic Cable is to have upon the commerce of this coast it is hard to realize about which the Mercantile Gazette of August 9th remarks

In some respects it opens a new world to our people. The merchants and bankers are now constantly on the alert for the latest news To illustrate It has been known for some time past that English orders were on the market for Wheat to a very considerable extent these orders were and now are in process of execution, the Atlantic cable is completed almost the first intelligence received is the announcement of a rumored peace upon the Continent the next day a telegram arrives through the Atlantic Cable to the effect that John Jones cancels all his orders for Wheat the next day an armistice is declared—not peace; the day following, Russia has joined her forces with those of Austria thus foreshadowing a universal war in Europe Of course all these contradictory accounts come to hand in a single week, thus unsettling market values and leaving operators and dealers undecided how to act. This, however, must soon regulate itself. Our merchants will speedily accustom themselves to the new situation, remembering that they are now within a few hours of the mother country and not distant thirty or sixty days as heretofore They are not now to wait weeks or months to know the rate of exchange [illegible] distant countries the thing is done as it were in a [illegible] time and space are annihilated Under existing telegraphic connections our merchants trading with China, Australia, and elsewhere can easily determine the rate of exchange on London, the present financial center of the world But how long that is to be the head-center of monetary affairs may be considered somewhat problematical The opening up of direct steam communication at this port with China and Japan connecting by telegraph with New York London, and elsewhere are [illegible] things to a new center. The railroad across the American continent promises to be completed within five years, then the highway of travel will seek new and more expeditious channels of communication around the world. In the interim we are to have other connections centering here through the Western Union Telegraph Company on the North, via the Russian P[illegible], the wires now being run by Col. Bulkley and his assistants.

What we need at present is confidence in the management of the telegraph wires already in operation Our people require better assurance and more protection from the Government than they now have that the business entrusted to the telegraph is honestly performed, that private parties and individual capitalists are no longer to have control of the wires—the stock—the all—entirely in their keeping, subject to their ipse dixit whether the gold news shall be given to the press or not, whether the wires to-day are to be "Out of order" and tomorrow "no dispatches." All this when the Old World is being rocked to its very center by the throes of war, or perchance the cry of peace The mercantile interest of this coast desire fair play, honesty and upright dealings with telegraph operators, stockholders, and general managers. They want some assurances that they are honestly dealt with, and that their communications to and from across the continent and the ocean are private property, and their contents [illegible] kept for the sole benefit of the [illegible] thereof.

Another important link connecting the old and new world, which was referred to in the course of our last weekly review, has been consummated by the Australia and New Zealand Mail Steamship Company In future a mail will be dispatched from San Francisco via Panama, to New Zealand and Australia, by each mail at [illegible] The rates of postage fixed by the Department, to be prepaid at the mailing office, are as follows, viz: Letters, per single rate of half an ounce or fraction thereof, 22 cents newspapers each 6 cents books for each four ounces or fraction thereof, 10 cents. It is hoped that the service, as to be in future performed, will be satisfactory to the entire mercantile community The [illegible] heretofore performed by transient sailing vessels has been ex[illegible] The same remarks are alike appl[illegible] to the [illegible] Mail [illegible]. The mail bags are seldom received [illegible] seal, but open to examination by [illegible] parties, [illegible] and others boarding the vessel and if per chance late and important intelligence is contained in the newspapers they are, it is said, not unfrequently thrown overboard; bags [illegible] letters taken out of the mail bags and withheld for days before delivery By the [illegible] of steam lines, all this [illegible] is done away with.

Under date of June 26th, the S[illegible] of the T[illegible] makes the [illegible] announcement that he is ready to redeem all [illegible] or freight [illegible] falling due after Aug 31st, 1866, with [illegible] interest thereon, presented for [illegible] on or before July 10th. At the latter date interest [illegible] on these vouchers, whether presented or not. The Government has the right, according to the tenor of these certificates to anticipate their payment, although it is thought that many holders did not notice that fact when they invested in them The [illegible] July 5th, was about thirty millions On the 31st of July the coupons of the third series of the Seven-Thirties fall due, amounting to $3,395,000, and on July 31st, gold interest matured as follows: $282,547 60 on sixes of 1867; $207,350 on sixes of 1868; $412,480 on sixes of 1880; $1,879,435 on sixes of 1881; $900,000 on fives of 1874; $310,000 on fives of 1871; $36,480 on Oregon war bonds

The [illegible] of the 9th, has dates overland to the 20th of July, from St. Louis, from which we are informed that steamboating on the Missouri this year has been a lucrative business, the [illegible] ranging from $17,000 to $70,000 for each trip. The [illegible] it is said, have ruined the wagon trade, and there are now nearly 100,000 wagons at Atchison and other points on the M[illegible], seeking a market, at prices below the cost at Chicago. We can scarcely credit the report, which is fairly given as the [illegible], from perfectly reliable parties of Montana.

The California Quicksilver Mining Company has filed its certificate of incorporation. The company [illegible] [illegible] of the California and [illegible] Quicksilver Mine in Butte county Capital stock $870,000, divided into 8700 [illegible] of $100 each. Trustees Charles F. Reed, Charles W Reed and Henry F Will[illegible]

The [illegible] market of San F[illegible] exhibits [illegible] activity, without, however, any apparent stringency For sixty days previous to the 9th inst., the shipments of [illegible] to New York, England, China, etc , amounted to $9,750,000; and the receipts from [illegible] during coin, had not [illegible] of $3,000,000. This [illegible] show a drain upon the [illegible] of the gold and silver [illegible] of at least 20 ℔ ct in [illegible] of the actual re[illegible] and it is thought that unless the exports of bullion materially falls off soon, a less easy money market may be [illegible] anticipated the [illegible] The sub-treasury in San F[illegible] has shipped East, since June 1st, $6,500,000 for Government account. The total exports of treasure from the Coast, to all parts, since January 1st, 1866, to August 8th, is given at $27,764,547 84. For [illegible] period of 1865, $26,05[illegible] 792 01, showing an increase this year of $1,720,[illegible] 83.

Domestic Produce Market.

PORTLAND August 17, 1866

The leading features of this market are without change Considerable flour and feed and a small amount of grain has been placed upon the market during the week but there is none other than a local inquiry for the same. Our chief exports at the present time are of manufactured goods, leather hides, and salmon, although for the upper Columbia trade the demand is apparently steady for many articles in the domestic produce line Eggs continue scarce and high Bacon seems to be advancing and quotations are favorable to the seller. Butter of prime quality is in demand New wheat and Oats are improving Feed rules at the prices given below Hay is in full supply a few boxes of Apples have appeared in the market selling at $1@$1 50 ℔ box

The San Francisco market is much the same as reported last week The price of wheat was rather steady, at $1 55 ℔ 100 lbs the ruling quotation however for good shipping is $1 50 ℔ 100 lbs, at which figure the great bulk of transactions for the past few weeks have been made At Walla Walla on the 11th, wheat was quoted at 65 cts ℔ bushel, of 60 lbs The quotations for Wheat per bushel of 60 lbs in some of the Eastern cities, July 9th were as follows In Chicago, No 1 $1 90@$1 91 No, 2, $1 25 In Toledo Amber Wheat was quoted at $2 20@$2 40, in Oswego $2 10@$2 30 for No. 1 Chicago Spring and No 1 Milwaukee Club; in Philadelphia common to Red was quoted at $2 25@$2 30 Flour was relatively lower The price of Wheat, as will be seen by reducing the above quotations to a gold basis is much lower in California than at the East. In Liverpool, June 23d, Wheat was quoted at 11s 6d@12s, or $2 87@$3 ℔ 100 lbs, an advance of 9@25c on the quotations there a week previous It is gratifying to know that our Wheat is quoted at a higher figure there than any other samples received from this country, or, indeed, with one exception from any country That exception is Dantzic high mixed, for which 11s 4d@12s 2d is asked The San Francisco Bulletin of the 8th, says

The great bulk of the wheat export is bought in the country prior to its arrival here, at prices equivalent to $1 50@1 60, deliverable in this city The exports of wheat for the week ending August 7th, embraces 59,337 sks against 4,615 sks for the corresponding week last year From July 1st up to last evening our exports of wheat were 140,072 sks, against 16 762 for the same period last year an increase this year of 123 310 Included in the exports since July 1st, this year were for cargoes for Great Britain embracing 92,465 sks or 4 623 tons, and with their respective cargoes in 100 ℔ sks

Five ships still remain on the berth to load wheat for Great Britain embracing a tonnage of 4 398 tons.

Allowing these vessels the same amount in proportion to their tonnage as was carried away by the four vessels already cleared, we have yet freight capacity on the berth for Great Britain for 7,456 tons of wheat or 149 120 sks. No [illegible] have been recently chartered with breadstuffs for that country, and we are not aware that any other are in contemplation. Future events, however may induce the chartering of others to succeed those on the berth, but at present there are no indications in that direction.

Cotton Goods and Woolen Market.

PORTLAND, August 17, 1866

With the exception of a slight decline in [illegible] shirtings, the market value of merchandise in this line is without alteration. The developments being made in home manufacture show very plainly that soon Oregon will have [illegible] and hands enough employed to supply the demands of this market for woolen goods, as easily as the mills of New England now supply the Middle States. Oregon is becoming largely devoted to manufacture [illegible] excellent reputation for the quality of the productions spot abroad We quote prices today as follow

Cattle and Live Stock Market.

PORTLAND, August 17, 1866.

In [illegible] we shall endeavor to give the ruling prices for cattle and other live stock for slaughter. We may say in the outset that the prices here are very apt to fluctuate. At the [illegible] time fine yearling weathers are [illegible], and prices are nominal Hogs are arriving, and but few are offered, at unsteady rates. It is thought that soon the value will be less, and the market better supplied.
